COURSE DESCRIPTION

The Search Fund Model: How to Become A 28-Year-Old CEO.

This course is intended for anyone interested in buying a small-sized company and become its equity owning's CEO at some point in their career, but can also be helpful for the participants that plan to be involved in:

- Private Equity,
- Venture Capital,
- Investment Banking,
- Entrepreneurship or
- Consulting.

The program will be covering the following topics:

1. Examining entrepreneurial acquisition models and your personal perspective.
2. The cost of your search.
3. Identifying and attracting qualified investors.
4. Conducting a successful search process. Assessing, sorting, and valuing targets: selecting a company to buy.
5. Approaching sellers and navigating the sale process.
6. Valuing acquisition targets, structuring a bid and developing a bidding strategy.
7. Dealing with sellers, financing, and structuring the deal.
8. Conducting due diligence, preparing, and negotiating deal documentation –purchase agreement- and managing transactions: the role of your Advisors and Lawyers.
9. The Closing date and beyond: Transitioning into a company leadership role.
10. Monetizing your Business: Why, When and How.
11. The course includes a final project that identifies a candidate acquisition target and potential deal structure. Students, working in Groups, will prepare a deep dive (investment pitch deck) into a specific acquisition target. Session 11 will be devoted to hearing, and providing feedback, on these presentations. Students will be asked to provide critical feedback to their peers to enhance the overall learning experience and increase exposure to various ETA approaches.

This course will be 12 class sessions that will be primarily case oriented with some additional readings, in-class guest speakers, and classroom discussions will help enhance the practical, real-world perspective of the class.

Upon successful completion of this course, students will come out looking at entrepreneurship in a different manner. They will understand that buying a business is an exciting career path to becoming an entrepreneur, and it can be far less risky than starting one –but bear in mind the search fund model is not without risk!

PROGRAM STRUCTURE

The Class is presented in 4 modules:

1. Preparing for your search.
2. Finding the right small business to buy.
3. Making an offer.
4. Completing the acquisition.

This course involves a variety of teaching and learning methods, including:

- a. Case discussions.
- b. Topical readings.
- c. Guest speakers.
- d. Lectures.
- e. Individual and Teamwork.

The cases and readings in each module will form the basis for the details of what you learn from each class discussion. There will be some sessions that will bring in guest speakers to provide added insights, and to give you the chance to question them directly.

Cases, written assignments, and supplemental material are mandatory; they should be read, understood, and prepared.

IMPORTANT NOTICE: Given the challenges of scheduling Guest Speakers for the Classes, dates are subject to change. Students will be noticed in advance. Please check your email and Canvas for information about changes in Agenda.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

The objective of this course is to explore selected topics -with a very practical approach- related to the entrepreneurial career path of acquiring a small or mid-sized business and become its equity owning's CEO.

We will examine this process through the perspective of following the search fund acquisition cycle, using a series of lectures, assigned readings and selected case studies.

When determining whether to enroll in this course, please keep the following in mind:

1. No two deals or acquisition processes are the same.
2. This course was designed to provide you with the knowledge and context to:
 - (i) decide whether or not you would want to explore a career path of Entrepreneurship Through Acquisition (EtA),

- (ii) develop some alternative methods to becoming an entrepreneur, and
 - (iii) have a practical tool kit to guide you through the acquisition lifecycle.
3. While there are many similarities between the process of acquiring a small company and a private equity fund buyout or a large M&A deal, the world of small business is highly entrepreneurial, fragmented and nuanced. As a result, there will be differences between what is discussed in class and the private equity process.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

On successful completion of this course, students will have a basic understanding of how to:

1. Understand the steps in launching a successful search fund.
2. Identify the industries and companies that are most conducive to the search fund process.
3. Structure due diligence for companies identified in the search fund process.
4. Negotiate a purchase price and structure.
5. Work with legal representatives to close the transaction.
6. Identify the key areas for management focus in the first several months after close.

CLASSROOM NORMS AND EXPECTATIONS

This course adheres to CBS Core Culture. Students are expected to be Present, Prepared, and Participating. We also expect all students to commit to the CBS Honor Code, following the principles of Truth, Integrity and Respect. We will not lie, cheat, steal, nor tolerate those who do.

The highest professional standards are expected of all my students and the CBS community. The collective class reputation and the value of the program experience hinges on this. You should treat this classroom as you would a Corporate Boardroom.

I will treat you as an adult in a very demanding working environment. Failure to comply with Syllabus instructions will give Student no credit. Please read the instructions carefully.

Recording (video or audio) of the class and taking pictures are NOT allowed. Any violation will result in being automatically dropped from the course with no further right to admission. Given the challenges of scheduling Guest Speakers for the Classes, dates are subject to change. Students will be noticed in advance.

Please check your email, Canvas and first day of Class for information about changes in Agenda.

Our expectations:

- Students arrive on time. On time arrival ensures that classes are able to start and finish at the scheduled time. On time arrival shows respect for both fellow students and faculty and it enhances learning by reducing avoidable distractions.
- Students display their name cards. This permits fellow students and faculty to learn names, enhancing opportunities for community building and evaluation of in-class contributions. We will distribute a seating chart ahead of the first class and ask that you use those seats for the remainder of our sessions.
- Students are fully prepared for each class. Much of the learning in this Course takes place during classroom discussions. When students are not prepared, they cannot contribute to the overall learning process. This affects not only the individual, but their peers who count on them, as well.

- Students respect the views and opinions of their colleagues. Disagreement and debate are encouraged. Intolerance for the views of others is unacceptable.
- Be present. When students are surfing the web or social media, responding to e-mail, instant messaging each other, and otherwise not devoting their full attention to the topic at hand they are doing themselves and their peers a major disservice. Those around them face additional distraction. Fellow students cannot benefit from the insights of the students who are not engaged. Faculty office hours are spent going over class material with students who chose not to pay attention, rather than truly adding value by helping students who want a better understanding of the material or want to explore the issues in more depth. Students with real needs may not be able to obtain adequate help if faculty time is spent repeating what was said in class. There are often cases where learning is enhanced by the use of laptops in class. Faculty will let you know when it is appropriate to use them. In such cases, professional behavior is exhibited when misuse does not take place.
- Phones and wireless devices are turned off and no recording is allowed in the Classroom.
- Changes to course syllabus. The course schedule is subject to change at the discretion of the instructor. Among other reasons, schedule adjustments may occasionally be required to accommodate changes in the availability of guest speakers. Schedule changes will be announced in class as well as on the course website and/or e-mail list –canvas-. Every effort will be made to communicate changes as early as possible and to minimize inconvenience to students.
- Class e-mail communications. Class announcements may be distributed via e-mail and canvas. In order to receive these announcements, make sure the e-mail address listed for you on the canvas site is correct. This e-mail list is created by the registrar's office based on an e-mail address that you provided to them. You are the only one who can change it.

LEARNING WITH THE CASE METHOD. DISCUSSION GROUPS.

Learning to synthesize a case, and decide what action a protagonist should take, is a skill I want students hone throughout their time in our Class.

The case method is a challenging style of teaching and learning, and discussion groups help students with different strengths and weaknesses learn from each other to better prepare for class. By reviewing interpretations and numbers for different cases, students can make sure they are on top of the material and can test out opinions and ideas about cases before they come to class.

After you read and study the case individually, and before we all meet in class, I encourage you to get together with other fellow classmates (your own discussion group -you can use zoom or any other video/audio software if meeting in person is challenging-) to share, discuss and evaluate your different perspectives and conclusions on the material. This will help each other to better prepare for participation in class.

Depending on the material, groups can cover spreadsheet models, interpretation of exhibits, and perspectives on case readings.

Before first day of class, we will be creating the Study Groups (~5 pax) to discuss and to work on the assignments 1, 2, 3 & 4, the cases, the PPM work and the final presentation. We will communicate the Groups before the Course starts.

COURSE ROADMAP/SCHEDULE

Subject to modification. Given the challenges of scheduling Guest Speakers for the Classes, dates are subject to change. Students will be noticed in advance. Please regularly check your email and Canvas for information about changes in Agenda.

Group Written Assignment 1:

Study Questions: This is due two (2) hours prior to the start of class. (PLEASE, 2 pages maximum & less than 800 words). Groups must submit their answers in Canvas and Students be prepared to pitch your views to the class:

1. What is your assessment of search funds versus other approaches to becoming an entrepreneur? In doing so, compare (a) doing a search fund to (b) joining a start-up or (c) taking a traditional job position to prepare for a later entrepreneurial path. Be prepared to thoroughly compare and contrast these approaches and to share in class your list of the pros and cons of search funds and to defend your conclusions.
2. Compare and contrast the four approaches to EtA (self-funded, sponsored, traditional and accelerator) throughout the process of fundraising, search, deal execution, management and exit. Which approach do you prefer and why? Be prepared to thoroughly compare and contrast these approaches and to share in class your list of the pros and cons of different approaches and to defend your conclusions.
3. What are your thoughts on the ideal time to embark on an ETA career path?
4. If you decide to follow an ETA career path, how this could affect the dynamics with your Family/Spouse/Partner?

Optional Reading:

- Exploring Various Search Fund Structures (VERY INTERESTING) YALE CASE AUGUST 19, 2021 NEW
- Do You Have What It Takes to Be an Entrepreneur?
- Should Couples Go into Business Together?

VERY IMPORTANT NOTICE ABOUT FINAL GROUPWORK (Private Placement Memorandum - PPM), PITCH DECK, AND PRESENTATIONS TO CLASS (Investors).

- 1. PPM. Students are advised that the assignment will require a substantial amount of time and work. The document -PPM-must have no more than 10 pages. Due Date will be Friday, April 29th at noon EST (NYC Time). You might use the template found at the Stanford Search Fund Primer, Exhibit 3.

The PPM is a professional presentation of your investment offer and outlines the business opportunity for investors. This document provides credibility and integrity to those who are considering the investment and provide prospective investors with clearly-stated terms and conditions. The PPM does this by disclosing the overall business strategy and the pertinent risks of the business. Any potential investor should do their homework before investing. A private placement memorandum indicates that the issuer has conformed to best practices by providing the necessary documentation to properly raise money and to properly accept money.

ATTENTION: 15% of the grade weighting will be from working in your group - and submit the PPM document to investors (your professor) into Canvas on time. This document will have to include, at least, the following items:

1. Cover page (including your Group number and members).
2. Index.
3. Search strategy (industry or opportunistic).
4. Industry and company screening criteria.
5. Your resume, background, and why you want to be a Search Fund entrepreneur.
6. Fund size, unit size, and general economic terms.
7. Investors you want as long-term partners.
8. An investment proposal (find a business that is interesting for the purpose of this project).
9. Bibliography.
10. List of Tables and/or the List of Figures (if necessary).

- 2. INVESTMENT PITCH DECK + PRESENTATION IN CLASSROOM. The document -Pitch Deck- must have no more than 25 pages. Due Date will be Sunday, April 24th at midnight EST (NYC Time).

The course includes a final project that identifies a candidate acquisition target and potential deal structure. Students, working in Groups, will prepare a deep dive (investment pitch deck) into a specific acquisition target. Session 11 will be devoted to hearing, and providing feedback, on these presentations. Students will be asked to provide critical feedback to their peers to enhance the overall learning experience and increase exposure to various ETA approaches. Your Group will produce a pitch presentation to provide a streamlined but informative overview of a target company you and your group had identified to acquire. Your group will be presenting your investment pitch in the classroom. Please see details at the end of this document.

ATTENTION: 15% of the grade weighting will be from your group presentation to the class and 10% by submitting the pitch deck to investors (your professor and class) into Canvas on time. This document will have to include the following items and have no more than 25 pages (a template will be shared to provide some useful guidance to you):

1. Cover page (including your Group number and members).
2. Index.
3. Executive Summary (two pages max): Transaction overview, Market, Operational Success, Seller's Motivations, Investment Strategy, What makes the investment so attractive, Investment Terms, Sources and Uses of funds, target Company - what is the opportunity -, Corporate Structure what are the value creation initiatives
4. Market Overview (three pages max): competitors, industry value chain, trends, graphs, maps, Competitive Advantages and MOATs of target, target positioning, etc.
5. Company overview: highlights, operational footprint, etc...
6. Company Description: ownership and transactional perimeter, operational structure, facilities, key management and team, organizational chart.
7. Customer Portfolio: key sales figure, top 5 customers, client portfolio, Sales seasonality.
8. Financial analysis: revenues to gross margin analysis chart, revenues to EBITDA analysis chart, evolution of margins chart, financial takeaways
9. Proposed investment: Financial performance: projected Balance Sheet, Credit Statistics, P&L and Cash Flows year 0 to year 5.
10. Risks and Mitigants
11. Your contact info.

Students are advised that the assignment will require a substantial amount of time and work. Due Date for the PITCH DECK will be Sunday, April 24th at midnight EST (NYC Time).

EVALUATION CRITERIA

Grade weighting will be as follows:

1. Attendance (1): 5%
2. Special assignments with Social Media (2): 5%
3. Value Added Class participation (3): 20%
4. Written Assignment (4): 30%
5. PPM doc to Investors (5): 15%
6. Investment Pitch Document (6): 10%
7. Group Presentation in Class (7): 15%

(1) To be in the class, you must be present, on time, and arrived prepared. Being late or missing any of the sessions without a University approved excuse will lower your grade.

(2) Student will be asked to set up her/his own free LinkedIn account and should get at least 2 (two) recommendations and 2 (two) endorsements.

- a. Please submit screenshots/snapshots of your LinkedIn account, your endorsements, and recommendations to Canvas.
- b. Due date is COB 7 (seven) calendar days before the last session.

(3) 20% of the grade weighting will be from the assessment of the effectiveness of your class participation. Complete pre-work needed and expect cold and warm calling. A student -or a Teacher Assistant- will be selected in each class for recording participation in a seating list/chart. Not attending or being late to class will have a negative effect on class participation grades. To help us learn your names as quickly as possible, use a name card in every class; we will distribute a seating chart during our first class and ask that you use those seats for the remainder of our sessions (If you are joining online, please type your name and last name in your zoom screen). After you read and study the cases individually, and before we all meet in class, I encourage you to get together with other fellow classmates (your study group) to share, discuss and evaluate your different perspectives and conclusions on the material. This will help each other to better prepare for participation in class.

(4) The student will prepare and send responses as instructed in sessions 1, 2, 3 and 4. After you read and study the case individually, I encourage you to get together with other fellow classmates (your study group) to discuss the Case and the readings.

(5) PPM: 15% of the grade weighting will be from working in your group of 5/6 people and deliver a Private Placement Memorandum (also referred to as a “PPM”). A PPM is a document used to raise capital. You must prepare that document to raise search capital from accredited investors in your Search Fund. The objective of the project is to give you experience reaching out to investors with a compelling investment proposal. Students are advised that the assignment will require a substantial amount of time and work. The document -PPM- must have no more than 10 pages. Due Date will be April 29th at noon EST (New York City Time). You might use the template found at the Stanford Search Fund Primer, Exhibit 3.

(6) Pitch Deck: 10% of the grade weighting will be from working in your group of 5/6 people and submitting your INVESTMENT PITCH DECK into Canvas on time. Due Date will be April 24th at midnight EST (New York City Time).

(7) Group Investment Presentation: 15% of the grade weighting will be from your group presentation to the class on Session 11.

Criteria	Percentage
Attendance	5
Social Media	5
Class Participation	20
Written Assignment	30
PPM doc to Investors	15
Investment Pitch Document	10
Group Presentation	15

VERY IMPORTANT NOTICE ABOUT GROUPWORK - Private Placement Memorandum and Investment Pitch to Investors.
You might use the template found at the Stanford Search Fund Primer, Exhibit 3.

(1) The PPM is a professional presentation of your investment offer and outlines the business opportunity for investors willing to invest in your search capital. This document provides credibility and integrity to those who are considering the investment in your Search Fund and provide prospective investors with clearly stated terms and conditions. The PPM does this by disclosing the overall search strategy and the pertinent risks of the business. Any potential investor should do their homework before investing. A private placement memorandum indicates that the issuer has conformed to best practices by providing the necessary documentation to properly raise search money and to properly accept money.

ATTENTION: 15% of the grade weighting will be from working in your group -5/6 pax - and submit the PPM document to investors (your professor) into Canvas on time. This document should include, at least, the following items in no more than 10 pages:

1. Cover page (including your Group number and members).
2. Index.
3. Search strategy (industry or opportunistic).
4. Industry and company screening criteria.
5. Your resume, background, and why you want to be a Search Fund entrepreneur.
6. Fund size, unit size, and general economic terms.
7. Investors you want as long-term partners.
8. An investment proposal (find a business that is interesting for the purpose of this project).

9. Bibliography.

10. List of Tables and/or the List of Figures (if necessary).

Students are advised that the assignment will require a substantial amount of time and work. Due Date will be April 29th at noon EST (New York City Time). You might use the template found at the Stanford Search Fund Primer, Exhibit 3.

(2) Investment Pitch Deck: 10% of the grade weighting will be from working in your group of 5/6 people and submitting your INVESTMENT PITCH DECK into Canvas on time. Due Date will be April 24th at midnight EST (New York City Time). The course includes a final project that identifies a candidate acquisition target and potential deal structure. Students, working in Groups, will prepare a deep dive (investment pitch deck) into a specific acquisition target. Session 11 will be devoted to hearing, and providing feedback, on these presentations. Students will be asked to provide critical feedback to their peers to enhance the overall learning experience and increase exposure to various ETA approaches.

This document will have to include the following items and have no more than 25 pages (a template will be shared to provide some useful guidance to you):

1. Cover page (including your Group number and members).
2. Index.
3. Executive Summary (two pages max): Transaction overview, Market, Operational Success, Seller's Motivations, Investment Strategy, What makes the investment so attractive, Investment Terms, Sources and Uses of funds, target Company - what is the opportunity -, Corporate Structure what are the value creation initiatives
4. Market Overview (three pages max): competitors, industry value chain, trends, graphs, maps, Competitive Advantages and MOATs of target, target positioning, etc.
5. Company overview: highlights, operational footprint, etc....
6. Company Description: ownership and transactional perimeter, operational structure, facilities, key management and team, organizational chart.
7. Customer Portfolio: key sales figure, top 5 customers, client portfolio, Sales seasonality.
8. Financial analysis: revenues to gross margin analysis chart, revenues to EBITDA analysis chart, evolution of margins chart, financial takeaways...
9. Proposed investment: Financial performance: projected Balance Sheet, Credit Statistics, P&L and Cash Flows year 0 to year 5.
10. Risks and Mitigants
11. Your contact info.

(3) Group Presentation. Your group will be presenting your investment pitch in class. A group of investors (40%), your fellow classmates (5%) and your professor (55%) will be grading your presentation following the above mentioned objective criteria/rubric.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Students are required to attend each class. Students should reach out to the instructor or TA regarding University excused absences (for religious observances; personal, medical, and family emergencies; military service; court appearances such as jury duty). Unexcused absences and/or being late will affect your course grade.

NOTE: The following is applicable for Core Courses:

- Students that miss more than 33% of their classes (unexcused absences) will at most receive a P for the course grade.
- Students that miss more than 50% of their classes (unexcused absences) will receive a F for the course grade.

NOTE: The following is applicable for Core Courses and for any electives with OSA-administered exams:

- Students that miss the exam for an excused reason but are unable to take the exam within the stated make-up period will receive a zero for the final exam grade.
- Students that miss the exam without notifying OSA (unexcused), will receive an F for the course grade.

This course may use Poll Everywhere as a tool to increase in-class student engagement. Poll Everywhere may also be used to confirm student attendance and participation records. Students who have concerns regarding whether their responses have been recorded should contact the instructor.

If a student is absent from class and is allowed to attend a different cluster's class meeting, it is at the discretion of the faculty member to count responses to any polls presented during this time as attendance or participation.

Finally, if a student is not present in the classroom at the time of a poll (due to absences or any other reasons), the poll should not be answered. Responding to a poll when not present in the classroom is a violation of the Honor Code.

INCLUSION, ACCOMMODATIONS, AND SUPPORT FOR STUDENTS

At Columbia Business School, we believe that diversity strengthens any community or business model and brings it greater success. Columbia Business School is committed to providing all students with the equal opportunity to thrive in the classroom by providing a learning, living, and working environment free from discrimination, harassment, and bias on the basis of gender, sexual orientation, race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, or ability.

Columbia Business School will make reasonable accommodations for persons with documented disabilities. Students are encouraged to contact the Columbia University's Office of Disability Services for information about registration. Students seeking accommodation in the classroom may obtain information on the services offered by Columbia University's Office of Disability Services online at www.health.columbia.edu/docs/services/ods/index.html or by contacting (212) 854-2388.

Columbia Business School is committed to maintaining a safe environment for students, staff and faculty. Because of this commitment and because of federal and state regulations, we must advise you that if you tell any of your instructors about sexual harassment or gender-based misconduct involving a member of the campus community, your instructor is required to report this information to a Title IX Coordinator. They will treat this information as private, but will need to follow up with you and possibly look into the matter. Counseling and Psychological Services, the Office of the University Chaplain, and the Ombuds Office for Gender-Based Misconduct are confidential resources available for students, staff and faculty. "Gender-based misconduct" includes sexual assault, stalking, sexual harassment, dating violence, domestic violence, sexual exploitation, and gender-based harassment.
